

Fees

Performance/presentation fees are calculated using the following criteria:

- how many programs are requested during a site visit (e.g., 3 storytelling programs in one school day is more than 2 programs, but all programs after the first one are at a reduced price
- travel distance required
- craft material costs
- whether the program is already prepared or is being developed specifically for this booking

References

References are available on request. Just email me, and I will send contact information on people who would know this type of program best.

Booking Information/Questions

Please contact me if you are interested in reserving a program or workshop, have questions about the prepared programs, or would like to collaborate on a custom performance/presentation.

Headquarters: Farmer City, Illinois

Email: kimtales@mchsi.com

Phone: 217-714-1864

Photo credits

Tami Haubner and Randy Sanford

Kim
Sheahan
Sanford

“Kim is a terrific storyteller, and she held the audience captive for the entire presentation.”

*Once upon a time...
Storytelling and history programs*

Who am I?

I have been a central Illinois storyteller and educator since 1991, entertaining and engaging audiences from 5 to 105. My storytelling programs feature oral traditions from around the world, many accompanied by culture-related objects or games. My interactive, artifact-based, historical programs reflect over 25 years of experience gained as the Assistant Director of Education at the Spurlock Museum at the University of Illinois. I have performed and taught at storytelling festivals, school classrooms and assemblies, professional conferences, city-wide celebrations, libraries, the Illinois State Fair, scout gatherings, summer camps, personal parties, club meetings, and other gatherings of all kinds. My enthusiasm is both unmistakable and contagious; let me share the joy and power of history and the tale with you.

Storytelling Programs

Around the World in Stories
Cinderella Around the World
Animal Stories
Stories to Haunt Your Dreams
Greek and Roman Mythology
Stories of Loving and Giving

Storytelling Workshops

Point of View
Happy/Unhappy Endings

Program Offerings

Historical Programs

She Outranks Me (one-woman show)

Object-based Programs

Everyday/Yesterday
A Sign of the Times

Learn more

Visit my website (kimsheahan.com) for the following:

- detailed descriptions of my programs, including suggested audiences and program durations
- videos of me performing multicultural folktales